1 Introduction

I am in my third year of college this year. I hope I can take the postgraduate entrance examination in computer science. I have already chosen computer science as my minor major in my second year of college. I hope to be able to connect with the computer profession in a real sense, and supercomputing sounds like a cool thing.

In the past three years, I have had three scientific research experiences and one internship experience, but my connection with computers was not very close.I really hope that I can experience and understand what a computer is actually doing, and have more knowledge and understanding of it.

I really hope to be a member of the team, thank you.
